

E-mail

Frustrated by those big expensive coolers that are “bears” to move?

As an independent restaurant owner, your restaurant is more than a business--it's your life.

You work long hours. But you enjoy the freedom to change things up as needed, to compete with the big “chain” restaurants--delivering the great service and delightful culinary experience your patrons expect, while keeping costs down.

But does the thought of moving that big “bear” cooler stop you from making your kitchen more efficient and productive?

Now, Chill-O-Matic has designed the LBR (stands for light, bright and reliable) cooler with features similar to the big coolers:

- 9 standard sizes available—choose one that fits your needs
- full-length glass door with a condensation-resistant coating, for easy viewing of the food inside
- energy efficiency equal to the best models out there (with only a slightly louder compressor), to keep your utility costs down

But with these huge advantages:

- 28.2% lower cost, in a comparison study, by the market research firm, LR Brown & Associates
- relatively lightweight; on rollers--easy for 2 people to move it in minutes

Visit our exhibit at the upcoming Restaurateur Conference & Trade Show and check out the LBR cooler for yourself.

For details and immediate access to a half-price ticket to the show, click the link below.

(link)