

AWAI's Accelerated Program for Six Figure Copywriting

Subject Line: Yeah! That's the ticket!

Hi _____. Karen here, from AWAI.

Got a question for you. Are you a fan of the old "Saturday Nite Live" shows?

Some of those wacky characters were hysterically funny.

Remember Dana Carvey's uptight, smug and pious "Church Lady?"

How about Gilda Radner's brash, tactless and wildhaired, "Roseanne Roseannadanna?"

And who could forget the hilarious Jon Lovitz, playing "Tommy Flanagan", the pathological liar?

"Yeah! That's the ticket!" he would declare after successfully constructing his latest ridiculous lie.

This catch-phrase really hits home, because many of us have known someone in our lives who just couldn't help themselves—habitually making up stories and trying to pass them off as truth.

The lying Tommy Flanagan character was very amusing.

But in real life, being lied to isn't funny at all.

So let me ask you:

Have you been disappointed by lies and half-truths in your search for a way to escape the rat race?

Were you ever promised a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, only to discover the pot was empty?

Have you fallen for one too many half-baked schemes, sending you to the brink of giving up on your dreams?

Well, don't give up yet.

Let me show you how TRULY possible it is to achieve those dreams...

You won't have to worry ever again about paying the bills.

Imagine the freedom of:
